LOCAL AND OTHERWISE.

Are you going to Alaska?

Born—to the wife of Paul Succetti on Tuesday of this week a son.

Toney Jacobson and family have come up from DeLamar to remain awhile.

Three or four additional men have gone to work at the No. 3 this last week.

The Board of County Commissioners will hold its regular monthly meeting next Monday.

Mrs. Geo. S. Sawyer, who has been ill for the past two weeks with an attack of fever, is mending nicely.

Dist. Attorney McNamee has rented quarters and his family will reside here for the next two months.

The Board of Pardons voted an adjournment to the 13th of September next, without transacting any further business.

John Vietti and Joe Lani were in on Tuesday from Deerlodge. They have been buying a number of mining interests there.

W. E. Barney was in from Deerlodge this week. Together with his brother he has a group of 14 promising claims in that district.

Foot passengers are passing through northward, every few days. A half dozen passed this week, having Ely and Cherry Creek in view.

Remember the Clerk's notice and get your claims against the county filed by Saturday or they will not be acted upon until the month following.

J. Eisenmann left last Friday for Salt Lake. He will be absent some time and expects to interest capital in the Magnolia mine before he returns.

Make up your mind to attend the show at Thompson's Hall next Tuesday night. You will see a better performance than the town has witnessed in many years.

Joe Bryant brought in some fine looking silver-lead ore from his Highland District claim on Tuesday. It goes upward of 100 ozs to the ton. He claims he can take out eight tons of it as a result of two weeks work.

They have discovered coal oil in Alaska, a "brass mine" in Peru, and a glacier in the hottest portion of central Africa. Now to even up things, they ought to find a ledge of boiled potatoes in Ireland.—Bodie Miner.

The Berger Bros. are hoisting from the 800 foot of the Meadow Valley No. 3 shaft, from old stopes, and screening on top. The product will be leached during the warm season. Later on the boys expect to work on ore which they have exposed on the 8th.

Dave Boreland came in from Fairview on Monday to have a fair view in his head dressed, which he had received that day from a flying piece of rock while setting off a surface blast. He brought in some good looking gold bearing ore from his claim there. His wound is not serious and he returned to Fairview yesterday.

The periodical rumor is afloat that the April Fool property is about to change hands. The DeLamar Company, a Denver Corporation and a Salt Lake syndicate are all mentioned as possible purchasers, but the most careful inquiry fails to show any foundation for the rumors beyond the fact that Frank Wilson and W. J. Dooley passed here on Monday for Deerlodge.

The Water Company is looking up parties who waste water and their rates are liable to be raised or the supply shut off. The water supply is none to great and the tanks must be kept full. All over the State the various companies are giving notices to patrons to curtail their use of water. The hot weather causes heavy evaporation, a fact that is not counted here for as much as it is worth.

The Stutz Theatre Company.

The Stutz Theatre Co. of 20 people will give the beautiful comedy entitled "Jack's Lost Paradise" in Thompson's Hall on Tuesday next August 3rd. The company has toured the western part of the State and are well spoken of wherever they have appeared. The performances are said to be far above the average given by traveling companies.

Speaking of the company the Dayton Times says: "The Stutz Company is a good one the best that has ever visited Dayton, and superior to nine tenths of the companies that visit Virginia City, Carson and Reno. Stutz and his wife, Mr. Wilkie and wife, and son Harold, W. J. Peters, Ivy Stutz, Miss Huff and Fred Cutler are well up in their business and the brass band and orchestra are good. Every person in town speaks highly of their performances."

A Big Lawsuit.

Last Saturday Corey Bros. Co., a corporation doing business in Ogden began a suit against the Gold Creek Mining Company for $24,785.82 claimed as a balance due for materials furnished and labor performed in building the reservoir and ditches for the defendant. The complaint alleges that the plaintiff was to receive $65,116.37 for the work, of which sum has been paid $40,613.53 leaving a balance due of $24,502.84. Also that the defendant admits an indebtedness of $13,272.17 leaving $11,512.66 in dispute. In addition to the amount sued for the plaintiff asks the court to allow $2,500 attorney fees and $29.95 for filing and recording the lien.

The complaint charged that the engineer for the company made fraudulent estimates and return of the work performed and material used in building the reservoir and ditches.

Sheriff Mateer started for Gold Creek Saturday evening to attach the property of the company for a portion of the amount sued for. The suit as stated above grows out of the contract entered into last year between the parties and in no wise affects the solvency of the Gold Creek Mining Company.—Independent.

Mining at Randsburg.

An exchange has the following to say of the way mining is carried on at Randsburg, California:

They have queer ways of mining down there. None of the mines are very deep and the way they are working is something new to the science of mining. A very large number of the mines are owned by farmers who have had no experience in mining whatever. They work a little while and take out ore which they sell for $1 per pound. When they have obtained enough to last for a while they quit work and remain idle until they are broke and then they go to work and dig up another stake. There are about 2500 people in the place and the main street is about a mile in length. Saloons, gamblers, fast women and typhoid fever abound and flourish down there and water costs more than beer. Without doubt it would be a fine place for some of our practical miners to take a lease on some of the mines down there and work them in a systematic way. It is almost impossible to buy a mine in Randsburg as the prices are up into the hundreds of thousands.

Mosquito Nuisance.

Recent experiments have demonstrated that the mosquito nuisance may be abated in most localities at small expense, says the New York Press. The government bureau of insect study says so, and is prepared to show how. Mosquitoes have been banished by its process from the city of Washington, from places near Bridgeport, Conn., Palo Alto, Cal.; Oak Island Beach, L. I., and the grounds of the Mississippi college of agriculture. Its preventive is kerosene—the cheapest kind, costing only a few cents a gallon. All that one has to do is to get a sprinkler and spray the kerosene over the stagnant water near one's premises. Unless the stagnant water is tremendous in extent, this operation is as easy as it is effectual.

It would, of course, be somewhat of an undertaking to annihilate the mosquitoes in the Jersey meadows. But any household, it appears may diminish the pests about his piazzas by looking out for his own dooryard.

FROM DeLAMAR.

When are we to boom again?

Miss Lottie Molatesta has been quite ill of late with fever symptoms but is now mending nicely.

Load after load of brick are going into the Company mill. Most of them are used on the big stack foundation.

The last few days have been corkers for heat. The thermometer registered 109 in the shade on Tuesday.

A thousand feet of rails and a car have been ordered with which to prosecute work on the John Reece claim in Jangamant canyon on the Helene side.

H. H. Cooper is from Deerlodge for a short visit with his family. He reports matters at that place as very quiet just now, though prospecting goes right along.

Unless the season closes too quickly DeLamar will supply a contingent of venturesome spirits for the Clondyke country. They are figuring on freights and fares every day.

The night foreman at the DeLamar mill, Frank Carter, fell from the belt of one of the Griffin Mills last Thursday night to the floor, some ten feet below. Fortunately he escaped with a few bruises and was not obliged to lay off work.

Religious services are again being held in the Episcopal Church. Arch Deacon Crook of this diocese arrived from Salt Lake last Saturday evening and will remain for the Summer. The gentleman has officiated at Park City and other places for a number of years and is well liked.

The Stutz Theatre Company has the town billed for a series of performances to commence August 9th. This is a big company for inland travel, embracing 20 people, and it will furnish the best show the town has ever witnessed. It will hold down the boards as long as patronage justifies.

It is reported that the DeLamar mill will shut down for a week at the end of this month to effect a general overhauling of the boilers, engines and machinery and to connect the new smoke stack with the boilers. The mill has been running steadily for a long time now and the lay off will be particularly appreciated by the hands, coming as it does in the middle of the hot season.

Bottle trade justifies some of our merchants in paying the $10. a month retail license necessary to sell beer by the bottle, and some of them will do it for the next few months rather than lose the time and expense necessary to test the question in court of whether the commercial quart bottle does not come within the provisions of the statute permitting unbroken packages of not less than one quart, to be sold under a merchandise licence of $7.50 per quart.

The Bowman Bros. of Colorado, who have been working since last March on a claim on the Helene side, north of the heavy ridge of white quartz known as the Snowflake, have opened up a five foot ledge and are taking out plenty of ore worth $25 a ton in gold. It is claimed to be a contact vein between quartzite and porphyry and to be very extensive. The Bowman Bros. prophesy as great richness, and a longer life for the north side of the District than for the south or DeLamar side, and other claimants thereabouts, who have fine showings on the same contract, believe so with them.

Our School.

There has been more or less complaint in the past about our schools. Some of this could possibly not be avoided on account of the newness of things. The present Board of Trustees desires to act in harmony with the reasonable wishes of a majority of the people, and so called a meeting recently to discuss school matters generally and to prepare for the term which will open six weeks hence. No one responded however and so the trustees, Messrs. Pomeroy, Sheehan and Hoag are having the school building renovated, will provide such accommodations as they think needful for the increased number of children who will attend this winter, and run the schools as their best judgment dictates. There is no reason why a long and beneficial term should not result.

LOST IN THE MOUNTAINS.

Rough Experience of Four DeLamar Miners Who Left for Vanderbilt District.

On the 20th inst. four men left DeLamar, bound for Vanderbilt District, California. They proposed to make the journey afoot, using two burros to pack their effects. H. Harrison, the two Fish Bros. and a man whose name we can not leave constituted the party.

They intended to strike Meadow Valley Wash 20 miles southeast of DeLamar and proceed down the Wash on the usually travelled road, to the Muddy and across to Las Vegas etc. In some manner they missed their road, failed to make the Wash, and landed in the mountains some 9 miles south of the Helene Sawmill. Recognizing soon that they were lost, the party separated and for three days wandered about. The two Fish Bros. and the unknown man managed to reach the saw mill and came on in here on Tuesday and reported their experiences, when Jake Johnson, accompanied by one of the men set out to hunt up the still missing man, Harrison. He had then been three days without food or water and in that desolate region, at this season of the year must have suffered intensely.

Johnson, and one of the Fish boys who accompanied him, returned at 11 o'clock last night from an unsuccessful search for Harrison. They travelled about 80 miles and tracked Harrison to within 4 or 5 miles of the sawmill where a sawmill was operated many years ago. Here Harrison must have perished. His last visible tracks show him to have been about exhausted, and sitting frequently to rest. The rough nature of the surroundings precludes the idea of his getting out of the canyon, and Johnson and his companion were too nearly worn out themselves to search at length for the remains owing to rocks and heavy undergrowth.

It is proposed now to send out a party with Indians; but all that can be done will be to bury the remains when found since after an exposure of five days in the summer heat they cannot probably be removed.

The unknown man is the one who volunteered to guide the party to Vanderbilt, and he was found to know nothing whatever of the region to be traversed.

Copper Mines to Start.

The mines in this section prospect well, but are not yet sufficiently developed to warrant men who are looking for work, to come here. Everybody here is anxiously awaiting the result of the Boston company's venture across the river, where they have about 40 men employed in their mines and at work on the smelter. It will be fully 60 days before the plant is running, and if it is a success, and they work 40 tons per day, and they are preparing to handle that amount of ore, it will cause no less than 15 copper mines in this vicinity to be worked to their utmost for some time to come.—Yerington Rustler.
